Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)

(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
  - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
  - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

- (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

SCHEDULE A

Natco Pharma Limited (“Natco”), pursuant to Rules 34(c) and 45 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, requests that DigitalOcean, LLC produce and permit Natoco’s attorneys to inspect and copy the documents and things described below.

INSTRUCTIONS

In complying with this subpoena, you are required to produce all documents and things specified herein, which are in your possession or custody, or under your control, or which are otherwise available to you.

In lieu of producing documents responsive to the Requests on _____, 2020, at 9:00 a.m. as commanded, you may comply with this subpoena by using an overnight delivery service to deliver the documents responsive to the Requests so that they are received by William Schultz, Merchant & Gould, P.C., Suite 2200, 150 South 5th Street, Minneapolis, MN 55402, by _____, 2020. If you have any questions about this procedure, or for information about how to bill counsel for the copying and delivery charges, please contact William Schultz at (612) 336-4677.

Each document should be produced in its original file, folder, form, software program with version or other container or as otherwise kept in the usual course of business.

If the original of a document is within your possession, custody, or control, produce it; if not, produce such copy of it as is in your possession, custody, or control. Any copy of a document on which any notation, addition, alteration, or change has been made is to be treated as an additional original document.

If any document responsive to this request was at one time in existence but was subsequently lost, discarded, or destroyed, identify each such document as completely as possible, including by providing the following information: the type of document; the date of the document; the date when the document became lost, discarded, or destroyed; and the identity of all persons having knowledge of the contents of the document.

If you assert a claim of privilege or work product protection in objection to any interrogatory or request for production of documents or tangible things, identify with respect to each communication, document, or tangible thing the nature and basis of the privilege claimed, and provide as much of the following information as is not encompassed by the privilege: its type; its general subject matter and purpose; its date; the names of persons making or receiving the communication, document, or tangible thing or a copy thereof or, if the communication was oral, of those present when it was made; their relationship to the author or speaker; and any other information upon which you may rely to support your claim of privilege or other immunity from discovery.

DEFINITIONS

In the Document Requests below, the following definitions shall apply:

All/Each. The terms “all” and “each” shall be construed as all and each.

And/Or. The connectives “and” and “or” shall be construed either disjunctively or conjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of the discovery request all responses that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope.

Document. The term "document" is defined to be synonymous in meaning and equal in scope with the broadest usage of such term in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34. Such term includes, without limitation, any writing and each original, master, and every copy of the following items, however produced or reproduced, whether electronic or in hard copy form, and whether undeleted or deleted, namely: books, accounting records of any nature whatsoever, agreements, communications, correspondence, telegrams, cables, telexes, facsimile documents, electronic mail ("e-mail"), memoranda, recordings, studies, summaries or records of telephone conversations, summaries or records of personal conversations or interviews, diaries, letters, forecasts, statistical statements, graphs, laboratory or engineering reports and records, notebooks, charts, plans, sketches, drawings, information-bearing photographic products of any nature whatsoever, phonograph records, microfilms, tape recordings, minutes or records of meetings or conferences, expressions or statements of policy, lists of persons attending meetings or conferences, reports or summaries of interviews, reports or summaries of investigations, opinions or reports of consultants, patent appraisals, opinions of counsel, records, reports or summaries of negotiations, sales literature of any nature whatsoever, brochures, catalogues, catalogue sheets, price lists, pamphlets, periodicals, advertisements, circulars or trade letters, press releases, trade releases, publicity releases, new product releases, reprints, drafts of any documents, working papers, indices, notes of any nature whatsoever, marginal notes appearing on any documents, computer printouts, computer disks, computer memory files, and other data compilations from which information can be obtained or translated, if necessary, by Plaintiff through detection devices into reasonably usable form. The term “document” includes all non-identical copies, such as those bearing marginal comments or other marks, postscripts, changes, amendments, addenda or other notations not present on the original document as initially written, typed, or otherwise prepared. Each such non-identical copy is to be considered and identified as a separate document.

Person. The term “person” means a natural person, corporation, partnership, government (or any agency thereof), quasi-public entity, proprietorship, joint venture, trust or estate and any other form of legal entity.

Singular/Plural. The use of the singular form of any word includes the plural and vice versa.
